Inspiration of the Week

Excerpts from.....

The Spice of Life

compiled by Dian Ritter

Happiness can't be measured by one's wealth. For instance, a man with $8,000,000.00 may not be a bit happier than a man with $7,000,000.00.

A day ought to start with eager anticipation and end with pleasant memories.

A really contented person has his yesterdays all filed away, his present in order, and his tomorrow subject to instant revision.

Contentment is a pearl of great price.

Recipe for Happiness:

Take two heaping cups of patience

One heartful of love

Two handfuls of generosity

Dash of laughter

One headful of understanding

Sprinkle generosity with kindness

Add plenty of faith and mix well

Spread over a period of a lifetime

Serve to everyone you meet.

You cannot change yesterday, that is clear,
Or begin tomorrow until it is here.
So the only thing for you and for me
Is to make today as sweet as can be.

Some cause happiness wherever they go: others whenever they go.

People are generally about as happy
as they make up their own minds to be.

Visits always give pleasure--if not the coming, then the going.

Happiness is a perfume you cannot pour on others without getting a few drops on yourself.

God without man is still God.
Man without God is nothing.
