

American Inspiration

Thoughts for today and every day . . .

“Enthusiasm is the best protection in any situation. Wholeheartedness is contagious. Give yourself, if you wish to get others.” David Seabury

“No tree becomes rooted and sturdy unless many a wind assails it. For by its very tossing it tightens its grip and plants its roots more securely; the fragile trees are those that have grown in a sunny valley.” Seneca

“To dream anything that you want to dream—that is the beauty of the human mind. To do anything you want to do—that is the strength of human will. To trust yourself to test your limits—that is the courage to succeed.”

“Do each daily task the best we can; act as though the eye of opportunity were always upon us.” William Feather

American Update

This weekend we have three great contest locations.....Lone Star State Championship in Austin, North Texas Regionals in Rockwall and Houston Coastal in Katy. All have many wonderful teams that will be competing. Make sure to visit our web site to see the schedules and who will be there!

Also, visit our American Dance/Drill Team Facebook page and see over 200 photos that have been uploaded by us and others of the Super Bowl XLV halftime show!

Inspiration of the Week

Today is Yesterday's Tomorrow

by Jim Rohn

The problem with waiting until tomorrow is that when it finally arrives, it is called today. Today is yesterday's tomorrow. The question is what did we do with its opportunity? All too often we will waste tomorrow as we wasted yesterday, and as we are wasting today. All that could have been accomplished can easily elude us, despite our intentions, until we inevitably discover that the things that might have been have slipped from our embrace a single, unused day at a time.

Each of us must pause frequently to remind ourselves that the clock is ticking. The same clock that began to tick from the moment we drew our first breath will also someday cease.

Time is the great equalizer of all mankind. It has taken away the best and the worst of us without regard for either. Time offers opportunity but demands a sense of urgency.

When the game of life is finally over, there is no second chance to correct our errors. The clock that is ticking away the moments of our lives does not care about winners and losers. It does not care about who succeeds or who fails. It does not care about excuses, fairness or equality. The only essential issue is how we played the game.

Regardless of a person's current age, there is a sense of urgency that should drive them into action now - this very moment. We should be constantly aware of the value of each and every moment of our lives - moments that seem so insignificant that their loss often goes unnoticed.

We still have all the time we need. We still have lots of chances - lots of opportunities - lots of years to show what we can do. For most of us, there will be a tomorrow, a next week, a next month, and a next year. But unless we develop a sense of urgency, those brief windows of time will be sadly wasted, as were the weeks and months and years before them.

There isn't an endless supply!

So as you think of your dreams and goals of your future tomorrow, begin today to take those very important first steps to making them all come to life.
