

Qualities of Successful Officers

- * Dedicated and will go 'beyond the call of duty'
- * Sincere in her concern for the drill team and its members
- * Disciplined and does not shirk her responsibilities and duties
- * Strives for perfection in her own performance and her team
- * Is mature and conducts herself accordingly
- * Has a sense of humor
- * Is open-minded and respects the feelings of others
- * Is poised at all times
- * Is determined and will "try, try again"
- * Is confident in her skills and abilities
- * Is responsible and always prepared
- * Sets a good example for drill team members
- * Displays respect to her director and other teachers
- * Is impartial with her peers and will not show favorites
- * Is not afraid to make a change when change is necessary
- * Realizes the importance of constructive criticism and therefore gives it tactfully and accepts it graciously
- * Realizes respect is something to be earned and not expected
- * Maintains a positive attitude at all times
- * Strives to make good grades and continues the positive example in other school classes and activities